

BIO

Born Keri Jones, Co Co Jones was given the nickname, CoCo, at birth. Raised in Fernandina Beach, FL by her grandparents and abroad as a military child by her mother, she found her singing voice in church.

In college, Jones linked with hip hop group Reaction and fell in love with the art of rhyme as well. Meeting bandmate, Roahn Hylton, aka Firstborn, led to the Breakout Project, "SuperSoulSista", produced by Hylton. The project dropped in 2005 in Tulsa, Oklahoma and garnered attention and success from the classic single, "Anticipating", picking up radio rotation, the public's most requested song for months, and the interest of industry professionals.

Jones relocated to Atlanta, GA to connect with super producer Dallas Austin, and branched out to continue penning and performing songs, licensed and placed on many national and international television platforms to include "Franklin & Bash", "The Bad Girls Club", "Tia & Tamera", NBA national broadcasts,"The Fast and the Furious" DVD release, and later lending her voice to the reboot of classic show, "The Wonder Years".

Jones has since released projects, "Customs" with the group Passport and Solo Projects entitled, "Anticipating", and "The Reset", and Charting single "When Love Calls" with collaborating group , 3rd Soul From the Sun.

The newest project "Love, Jones" was released Dec 4, 2022.mlt continues the classic, soulful feel she is known for.

A Live Music Enthusiast, Jones continues to perform with live band, and vibe with the people through the power of voice and song.